

MILLION DOLLAR CAPITAL BEAUTY IS SOUGHT BY RUSSIAN

European Fortune Hunter Sends Letter to "Mayor of Washington."

"Wanted: by Commissioner Rudolph, president of Board of Commissioners, District building, name and address of beautiful heiress. None with less than $1,000,000 need apply."

Request that the above advertisement be inserted in the "free want ad" column was made by Commissioner Rudolph this morning, following the receipt of a letter addressed to "Monsieur, La Mairie, de la Ville, de Washington, Amerique."

Inscribed on an envelope which bears the postmark of a town in Russia is the following appeal: "Je vous prie, Monsieur le Maire, de vouloir bien remettre cette lettre a la plus belle jeune-fille millionnaire de votre ville. Vous etes le Juri, Je vous remercie infiniment."

Not being versed in French, Commissioner Rudolph called upon Dr. William Tindall, and obtained from him the following translation: "I pray you, Mr. Mayor, to be good enough to send this letter to the most beautiful young lady millionaire of your city. You to be the judge. I thank you infinitely."

"My acquaintance with beautiful young lady millionaires being limited, that's the toughest proposition I have encountered recently," said Commissioner Rudolph. "I know a few heiresses whose beauty, perhaps, is not up to the standard demanded by my correspondent, and, on the other hand, I know of a lot of good-looking girls who haven't got a blamed cent."

"Under the circumstances, the only thing to do is to advertise. Please say for me that if 'most beautiful young lady millionaire' in Washington will favor me with her name and address, I shall thank her infinitely. The letter will be delivered on demand."

Lee, said to be the largest colored preacher in the world, weighing 400 pounds, will be in charge of the services. He will be assisted by the Rev. W. A. Taylor, of Newport News, Va.

UNABLE TO LOCATE CLERK WHO SOLD LIQUOR TO INDIANS

Arraignment of Hotel Proprietor, However, Called for Tomorrow.

Despite the efforts of United States marshals to serve him with a warrant charging him with selling liquor to two Indian wards of the Government, a bartender well known to frequenters of Pennsylvania avenue cafes is still missing. Unless the man is located Nicholas Mades, the hotel proprietor who was arrested for a similar offense, will be arraigned alone before United States Commissioner Taylor tomorrow afternoon.

At the request of Special Agent Taylor, of the Indian Bureau, Mades was arrested Saturday afternoon. It is alleged in the warrant issued at the District Attorney's office that the hotel proprietor sold intoxicants to "Bacon Rind" and Henry Red Eagle, chiefs of the Osage tribe, who are in Washington in the interest of their tribe.

Uncle Sam to War On Sale of Liquor To Indian Braves

A general crusade against all persons in the District who sell or convey liquors to Indian visitors to the National Capital, is to be inaugurated by the Indian Bureau of the Interior Department, following the arrest Saturday of Nicholas Mades on a charge of selling intoxicants to Bacon Rind and Henry Red Eagle, two chiefs of the Osage tribe, here to consult with the Great White Father.

Indian Bureau officials declare that the practice of dispensing liquors to the redmen in this city has increased steadily despite the rigid laws on the subject. The arrest of Mades, they say, marks the beginning of a crusade designed to stop the practice, as a violation of the Federal laws, which apply not only to all parks and reservations belonging to the National Government, but to all Territories, including the District of Columbia.

In the past difficulty has been experienced in detecting violations of the law in Washington, but Thomas A. Larson, special agent of the Interior Department on violations of the liquor traffic law, has been assigned to local work.

COLDER WEATHER TO FOLLOW RAINS NOW PREVAILING

Check in Precipitation Comes Tomorrow—Disturbances Later.

The unsettled conditions of the last few days promise to give way to a colder temperature and fair weather by tomorrow morning. A drizzling rain which appeared late last night, this morning became more intense in volume, and by 11 o'clock there was a great downpour. The rain will continue throughout the night, the Weather Bureau says, but tomorrow morning will cease and will be followed by fair weather, with falling temperature.

The rain is the forerunner of a disturbance which hovered over the Southwest yesterday, and which is moving rapidly toward the Northeast. A general precipitation over the Mississippi valley has resulted. The Weather Bureau today predicted that colder

Parade of All District Boy Scouts Planned

A parade of all the Boy Scouts in the District of Columbia is proposed for the next legal or general holiday in the District as one method of familiarizing all persons with Boy Scouts. When General Baden-Powell visited Washington boys clad in the distinctive khaki uniform suddenly appeared in all parts of the city.

There were many persons who had never seen a Boy Scout before. The next legal holiday is Memorial Day, May 30.

By the time the parade is held there will be more than 1,000 scouts in the District.

In connection with the proposed parade there will probably be exhibitions of the various "stunts" that the boys are taught, first aid work, making fire without matches, and field wireless communication among other things.
